MASTER PLAN OPEN HOUSES PLANNED FOR MARCH 5 AND 6

JEFFERSON COUNTY, MO – The Visualize Jefferson County Master Plan is holding public open houses March 5, 5 – 8 p.m., and March 6, 10 a.m. – 12 p.m. Both events will be held in the Assembly Room at the Jefferson County Administration Building, 729 Maple Street, Hillsboro, MO 63050.

These open houses give the public the opportunity to comment on the draft plan and ask questions directly to the consultants. This event is open door where the public can come and go as they please. Presentation boards showcasing key points of the plan will be on display, and copies of the draft plan will be available.

County Services and Code Enforcement Director Mitchell Bair stated that “The Master Plan will outline Jefferson County's existing conditions, describe future goals, objectives and expectations for development and associated infrastructure improvements, and include an implementation guide on how the county can best achieve these goals and objectives. This plan will serve as the County’s official guide for land use, development, economic development, and natural areas for the next 10-20 years.”

“Community engagement has been and continues to be an essential element in the planning process”, said County Executive Dennis Gannon. “I am very excited about the opportunity the public has to provide input because is a critical component to the plan’s success.”
